

Spring to Life!

It's Time to Get Super Messy!

It's time to get Super Messy with Summer Camp 2018! Each year the Randolph Arts Guild hosts two weeks of crazy, messy, artsy fun for children ages 5-13. We recruit energetic teachers to share their creative ideas, plan amazing and messy projects for our students to create, host guest speakers from the community to teach our kids about fire safety, animal care and public safety, and create songs just for our summer campers! Each teacher brings a unique and fresh look to the arts, and each teacher supports their students in every aspect of learning the skills for each project - all while having fun! If you are interested, you can register online on our website, call the Guild or email the Summer Camp Director Marcus Lawson at Mlawson@randolphartsguild.com. Take a look at our offerings below!

Week One: Monday, June 25th, 2018 through Friday, June 29th, 2018

Week Two: Monday, July, 23rd, 2018 through Friday, July 27th, 2018

Juried Art Show

Let's Go Rummaging!

Get ready! The fundraising event of the year is on its way! It'll be here sooner than you expect! After the Easter holidays, what better way to replenish your love of old things than to go rummaging in other people's old things? Well the RAG is here to help! On April 6th and 7th, the Randolph Arts Guild will be hosting our annual Rummage Sale. And it promises to be bigger than ever! Come on out to the Firestone Building in Randleman from 6-8 pm on Friday, April 6th and 8 am-3 pm on Saturday, April 7th to shop til you drop! As in the past, there is a $5 admission fee. The staff will close the sale from noon-1 pm for lunch, and will reopen for the last two hours of the event with everything at half price! You will not want to miss this!

Call to Artists!

The Randolph Arts Guild is proud to announce the 36th Annual Juried Arts Show. Artists may deliver their entries on Friday, June 1, between 10 am and 5 pm and Saturday, June 2, between 10 am and 2 pm. The selected entries will be exhibited during the month of June in the Sara Smith Self Gallery.

Entry fee is $20 for RAG members $25 for nonmembers.

Each artist may submit up to three current pieces of their artwork for review by the juror. The juror will have full discretion to select the works to be displayed in the Gallery and all works not selected will be hung salon-style in Gallery 101. The Randolph Arts Guild reserves the right to not display all works as it sees fit.

Cash prizes will be given for Best in Show ($200), First Place ($150), Second Place ($100) and Third Place ($50). The show is open to all artists working in any media. Artists with very large pieces or works requiring special installation guidelines should call in advance of submission: 336-629-0399, ext 23.

Visit www.randolphartsguild.com for complete guidelines and juror information. An Opening Reception will be held on Tuesday, June 5, from 5:30-7:30 pm. The public is welcome and encouraged to attend, so invite all of your friends to see your artwork!

Kris's Corner: From the President's Desk

Well, March has roared in like a lion! The winds have been rather blustery in this area of the 100 acre woods, but spring is hopefully on the way. While the winds have subsided outside, the winds of change continue to propel the Randolph Arts Guild into a incredible new era. With another successful Potters Conference under our belt, we cast our eyes to the horizon and see the appearance of rummage. Not just any rummage, mind you, but the annual RAG Rummage Sale, April 6 and 7 in Randleman, NC. There you may score treasures galore or at least some really glassware. Who knows? You will if you attend!

Also, be sure to check out all the incredible programs available this month including Themed Cake Decoration, Music Theory and much more!

The winds are settling down, but the opportunities are swirling at the Randolph Arts Guild!

A Note from the Executive Director, Grace McFetters

Executive Director

Courier Tribune

Henry Ford once said, "Coming together is a beginning. Keeping together is progress. Working together is success." The Randolph Arts Guild has undergone some major changes in the past year. It was during the second quarter of last year that I came on board as the Executive Director. My first task was to assemble a team of co-workers who had a passion for the Arts Guild. And what a team this is! We have accomplished more than I had dared to dream. It is absolutely amazing what a team can accomplish, as long as they are all pointed in the same direction. As the Executive Director, I hold the compass. The Board of Directors convenes often to be able to give me the coordinates. I create the azimuth. As a team, we move forward. At times, a back-azimuth is required to assess where we have been that now influences where we are headed. The phrase from Henry Ford shows us there is more to teamwork than simply working together. It is a process. And just when you think you are working together, the team encounters a new challenge and it feels as though the team must start all over again. One thing this process does not show us is the actual key to the team's success: commitment. In order for anyone to arrive at any given coordinate is the commitment to arrive. And everyone must be committed on any given team. Every member of our Board of Directors must show the organization their passion in the coordinate they chose to set, every staff member must be willing to go the distance, and every member of the Arts Guild needs some level of commitment. Whether it is through showing us your support through membership renewal, signing up for workshops and classes, attending our regular events, or simply calling and letting us know your thoughts about our progress. Without our members, we do not exist. Without clear and concise direction from our Board of Directors, we go nowhere. And without staff, we have no chance of getting anywhere. Every part of this team is vital and individual commitment is necessary. I challenge each member, whether you are a Board member, staff member, member at large, or a member of our Randolph County community: tell me where to place the end destination and that is where we will go.

Upcoming Events:

The Bramble Ramble!

If you recognize that name, then you have been around the Randolph Arts Guild for quite some time! Anyone who has stepped foot in the gift shop or anywhere downstairs at the Guild knows our four footed associate Bramble! The little Westie was a close companion of the late Claudia Ainsworth, and is still a recognizable furry face at the Guild. The Bramble Ramble is an invitational art show to be held in the month of July. All artwork submitted has only two criteria:

1. The work must be inspired by Bramble.
- OR-
2. The work must be inspired by Claudia.

That's it!

This show will be juried with the juror to be announced. All proceeds from the sale of any work from the show will be donated to a memorial fund in Claudia's name, so we ask that all work be for sale. The show will run July 10th through the 31st, with the opening reception on July 10th at 5:30 pm.

Artists with questions about submission, please contact the Executive Director at 336-629-0399, ext 23.

Ted Swindley's Always...Patsy Cline
April 27-29 and May 4-6, 2018

Sunset Theatre

"Always...Patsy Cline" is more than a tribute to the legendary country singer who died tragically at age 30 in a plane crash in 1963. The show is based on a true story about Cline's friendship with a fan from Houston named Louise Seger, who befriended the star in a Texas honky-tonk in 1961, and continued a correspondence with Cline until her death. The musical play, complete with down home country humor, true emotion and even some audience participation, includes many of Patsy's unforgettable hits such as Crazy, I Fall to Pieces, Sweet Dreams and Walking After Midnight...27 songs in all. The show's title was inspired by Cline's letters to Seger, which were consistently signed "Love ALWAYS... Patsy Cline."

Speaker Series

LuLaRoe Fashion Show Fundraiser
with Brooke Sides

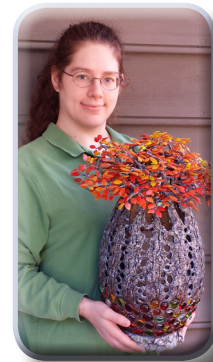

Saturday, April 14th from 1:00-4:00pm
at the Randolph Arts Guild

You can't help but look at fashion and think about art, especially with the fun and comfortable LuLaRoe clothing line! Come join LuLaRoe Fashion Retailer Brooke Sides at the Randolph Arts Guild for a pop up boutique and fashion show. Brooke will discuss the women's and little girl's styles as well as styling and fitting by sharing examples of the clothes on models.

Anne Murray, The Book-binder
Tuesday, May 8th from 7-8 pm

Since first encountering The Penland Book of Handmade Books at the public library in 2006, Anne has been passionate about making books and has been learning and practicing the crafts involved in making books – binding, making paper, marbling paper, creating book cloth, and woodworking. These skills were acquired from many different schools, places and avenues of instruction. She loves historically accurate pieces and pieces made from scratch. Join the RAG as we welcome Anne Murray as our guest speaker for the month of May!

Cara Bevan's All About Those Gourds!
Tuesday, June 12th from 7-8 pm

Cara is an artist based out of Trinity, who grew up on the Bevan Farm there. Her affinity for animals (which you see in her artwork), and her artistic family are the two things she credits for her artistic endeavors. Cara's art style is a blend of whimsical and fun mixed with attention to minute details. She is most known for her acrylic paintings and 3D gourd sculptures. This night, Cara will talk about her evolution as a gourd sculptor and how important gourds are to her creative process. Come and learn all about Cara!
